Location

Thurso is one of the two principal towns in the county of Caithness, situated on the north coast of the Highlands. The town benefits from good road and rail links to the south, offering connectivity despite its coastal location.

The subjects comprise the last remaining development site within the established Thurso Business Park, which occupies a prime business location on the north-western outskirts of the town, approximately 1.2 miles west of the town centre. Thurso Business Park was developed by Highlands & Islands Enterprise and accommodates a range of commercial uses, including clean industrial and office premises, alongside further development land. Neighbouring occupiers include Contec Design Services, Wolfburn Distillery and Lionvolt & Denchi.

Description

The subjects comprise the last remaining development site at Thurso Business Park. The Business Park has already been developed and there is a mixture of office, light industrial and business uses. The subjects are a platformed site ready for development, laid in grass. A Deed of Conditions is in place with regard to the Business Park including maintenance of the common parts and the Business Park has the benefit of a high quality landscape with extensive amenity areas.

Planning

The site is suitable for Class 4, 5 & 6 development which incorporates such uses as offices, research & development, light industrial and storage & distribution.

Notwithstanding this, interested parties should make their own enquiries regarding planning with Highland Council Planning Department at www.highland.gov.uk

Mains services have been installed within the main estate road network and it is understood that connections are available for the individual sites. Interested parties will be required to make enquiries with the relevant utility authority.
